

OPINION

EDITORIALS

LETTERS

In response to L.A. offer of office space and farmland for $1/year to "Occupy LA."

So, if I bring a sleeping bag over to the mayor's office and hang there for a few weeks to protest the business tax break given only to some of the new businesses in the city (I figure we old businesses constitute about 99%), can I get the city to give me some office space for $1 a year?

I might even pay $2 a year, and I don't even need farmland.

JEFFREY C. BRIGGS
Hollywood